Dear Deputy (redacted)

Pursuant to the Pen Register/Trap Trace issued in the above-referenced matter, we have conducted a diligent search for documents and information accessible on Google's systems that are responsive to your request. Our response is made in accordance with state and federal law, including the Electronic Communications Privacy Act. See 18 U.S.C. § 2701 et seq.

We understand that you have requested customer information regarding the user account specified in the Pen Register/Trap Trace, which includes the following information: (1) Subscriber information for the Gmail account (redacted)@gmail.com; (2) Information regarding session timestamps and originating IP address for recent logins by this account; and a CD containing (3) Header information for the specified date range. b7C

To the extent any document provided herein contains information exceeding the scope of your request, protected from disclosure or otherwise not subject to production, if at all, we have redacted such information or removed such data fields.

Finally, in accordance with Section 2706 of the Electronic Communications Privacy Act, Google requests reimbursement in the amount of $25 for reasonable costs incurred in processing your request. Please forward your payment to Google Custodian of Records, at the address below and please write the Internal Reference Number (redacted) on your check. The federal tax ID number for Google is 77-0493581. b2

Very truly yours,

Re: Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) Request No. 2009USMS13662

Dear Mr. Soghoian:

Final reference is made to your request to the United States Marshals Service (USMS) for invoices, price lists, and other information created between January 1, 2006 and January 1, 2009, detailing the amount of money paid by the USMS to major providers of internet based services used in responding to subpoenas, warrants, pen registers, trap and trace requests, etc.

The USMS has completed its review of the 92 pages of invoices responsive to your request and has determined to grant you access, except for internal agency information; confidential commercial information that was voluntarily submitted, including account and ABA numbers; names and (telephone) numbers of law enforcement officers/government employees; and names and numbers of third-party individuals referenced therein, which are exempt from disclosure pursuant to the Freedom of Information Act, 5 U.S.C. 552(b).

Exemption 2 allows an agency to withhold matter related solely to internal personnel rules and practices. Certain information withheld under this provision meets the test of "predominant internality," set forth in Crooker v. BATF, 670 F.2d 1051 (D.C. Cir. 1981). Disclosure of this information could risk circumvention of the law. Exemption 4 protects trade secrets and commercial or financial information obtained from a person which is privileged or confidential. Exemption 7(C) allows an agency to withhold records or information compiled for law enforcement purposes, to the extent that disclosure could reasonably be expected to constitute an unwarranted invasion of personal privacy. A copy of these 92 pages of documents is enclosed.

If you are dissatisfied with my action on this request, you may appeal by writing to the Director, Office of Information Policy, United States Department of Justice, Suite 11050, 1425 New York Avenue, NW, Washington, D.C. 20530-0001. Your appeal must be received within 60 days of the date of this letter. Both the letter and the envelope should be clearly marked "Freedom of Information/ Privacy Act Appeal." In the event you are dissatisfied with the results of any such appeal, judicial review will thereafter be available to you in the United States District Court for the judicial district in which you reside or have your principal place of business, or in the District of Columbia.

Sincerely,

William E. Bordley
